ATTACHMENT B: STATEMENT OF WORK

Animal-Assisted Mental Health Counseling

Background

In 2005, Washington State approved legislation allowing counties to raise their local sales tax by one-tenth of one percent to augment state funding of mental health and chemical dependency programs and services. In September 2013, the Kitsap County Board of Commissioners passed a resolution authorizing a sales and use tax for Mental Health, Chemical Dependency and Therapeutic Court Programs. The goal of this tax is to prevent and reduce the impacts of disabling chemical dependency and mental illness by creating and investing in effective, data-driven programs for a continuum of recovery-oriented systems of care.

Project Description

This project will provide behavioral health services within the Outpatient Services level of the continuum of care and addresses the following strategic goals:

- Improve the health status and wellbeing of Kitsap County residents.
- Reduce the incidence and severity of chemical dependency and/or mental health disorders in adults and youth.
- Reduce the number of chemically dependent and mentally ill youth and adults from initial or further criminal justice system involvement.
- Reduce the number of people in Kitsap County who use costly interventions including hospitals, emergency rooms, and crisis services.

This project will provide outdoor, nature-based, animal and/or equine assisted, and/or traditional behavioral, emotional, and therapeutic support services both in-person and through telehealth, case management and case coordination services including tele-academic coaching, coordinating with youths' doctors, education providers and school staff, and improving parent child communication strategies.

Project Activities

This project will support the sliding scale and scholarship fund to provide 461 Mental Health session hours at free or no cost to qualifying community members; individuals, families, and parenting sessions for those experiencing behavioral health crises, ongoing or past trauma, issues with the juvenile justice system, and/or social-emotional problems with a particular emphasis on serving marginalized communities experiencing historic discrimination impeding access to services. Services include psychotherapy, counseling, and self-development mental health services, case planning, case consultation, referral services, and other supportive services. Services delivered include remote one-to-one mental health support via tele-mental health support and in-person therapy/counseling for both individuals and/or group sessions for youth and families.

In addition, a part-time Executive Administrative Assistant will be hired to support recruitment, intake, enrollment, billing, licensing applications, data monitoring, analysis, and evaluations so our therapists can dedicate more time to direct counseling rather than administrative tasks.

Project Design

One Heart Wild provides access to healing through mutual connections between nature, humans, and animals using evidence-based, innovative Animal Assisted Therapy in Counseling techniques (AATC) for both psychotherapy, self-development counseling, and experiential learning practices. They incorporate proven intervention techniques known to integrate well with AATC including EMDR, CBT, Heart Math and Skills for Psychological Recovery (SPR).

Clients experiencing situational or low to moderate levels of depression, anxiety, boundary issues, lack of joy, moving through life transitions, shedding pleasing, & perfecting and performing patterns that are limiting their experience of confidence and self-efficacy are generally referred for self-development counseling while clients with moderate or greater symptoms of PTSD, complex PTSD, anxiety, depression, self-harm, complex trauma history, or other mental health disorders are best served with psychotherapy. Youths experiencing challenges of puberty, lack of self-leadership, lack of confidence, social anxiety, identity questioning, autism, low-moderate separation anxiety, impulse control and youth needing to expand their social, emotional, self-leadership skills are recommended for self-development counseling or experiential learning.

Professional counselors and social workers also offer traditional therapy sessions in the client lounge, non-riding animal/equine assisted therapy in the paddock or pasture and can also incorporate a combination of all techniques as part of the mutually designed treatment plan.

AATC is endorsed by the ACA for the following outcomes: improved self-development & life skills, increased emotional regulation & resilience, improved social/emotional skills, improved self-awareness & self-regulation, decreased social anxiety/depression/stress, improved stress management skills, healing from PTSD/Complex PTSD, secondary trauma recovery, and improved family communication & executive function.
